EDMOND, OK — Edmond Republican businessman Alex Warren, a self-made entrepreneur who rose from humble beginnings to oversee billion-dollar operations for a Fortune 500 company, has officially announced his campaign for Oklahoma County Commissioner.

Raised down in the Spencer and Nicoma Park area, Warren grew up in a working-class family that taught him the value of faith, hard work, and perseverance. His father, a proud Marine Corps veteran of World War II, returned home to work as an electrician at Tinker Air Force Base. His mother, a theater projectionist, was known for her kindness and community service. “We didn’t have much growing up,” Warren recalls, “but we had faith, family, and a work ethic — and that was everything.”

Those lessons stuck. From barbershops to buildings to billion-dollar budgets, Warren’s professional journey reflects that same grit and determination. Over four decades, he’s worked his way from the ground up, learning business as a young man alongside his brother, managing over 200 locations nationwide for a Fortune 500 company, and later building his own successful businesses – barbershops, buildings, asphalt, affordable housing, and more right here in Oklahoma County. “Our county deserves leadership that reflects Oklahoma values, honesty, hard work, and respect for others,” said Warren.

Warren’s campaign will focus on restoring integrity in the office, fixing roads and infrastructure the right way, and protecting taxpayers through responsible, transparent budgeting. A lifelong Oklahoman grounded in faith, family, and hard work, Alex has spent his career creating jobs, mentoring others, and helping local families build better lives.

“As a businessman, I know how to manage budgets, lead teams, and deliver results,” Warren said. “As County Commissioner, I’ll do the same — with honesty, transparency, and respect for the people who pay the bills.”

A Christian conservative and lifelong Republican, Warren has been married to his wife, Deborah, for 35 years. Together they raised four children and are proud grandparents to five. He believes strong families are the foundation of strong communities. “I’ve lived the American Dream, but I’ve also lived the struggle,” Warren said. “I know what it means to start from nothing, to work hard, and to build a life with faith as your guide. That’s what I’ll bring to county government, integrity, discipline, and a commitment to serving the people.”
